If this does not decide, the order shall be determined by the result of the tie between the 2 Teams concerned. In the event of more than 2 teams being equal and after taking into consideration the total number of games lost or won, then the difference between the number of points lost and won will determine the final order of the group.
- 6.7 When there is only 1 group, the awarding of medals shall be governed by the final order. When there are 2 groups, both group winners and runners-up shall compete on a knockout basis, each group winner opposing the runner-up of the other group in the 1st round. - 6.8 When there are 4 groups, the 4 group winners shall compete on a knockout basis. The final shall decide the winners of the Gold and Silver medals, and the winners of the Bronze medal shall be decided by the tie between the 1st-round losers.
- 6.9 In the case of any number of groups other than provided in the Regulations 6.7 and 6.8, the format and method of proceeding to the knockout stage for the determination of the medal winners shall be as agreed by the Organising Committee for the Badminton events together with the Technical Committee.
